

Open hand to work with members of both parties, Democrats and Republicans, to protect our citizens, of every background, colour and creed," Trump said in his 80-minute prime-time address.

"It is time to begin moving towards a merit-based immigration system — one that ad-gets everything they want, but where the country gets the critical reforms it needs".

"Under our plan, those who meet education and work requirements, and show good moral character, will be able to become full citizens of the United States," Trump said, proposing a pathway to the US. Given that there are hundreds and thousands of Indian IT professionals waiting in queue to get their green cards because of the current country quota, the relocation of diversity visa numbers to green cards is expected to hugely benefit them.

system into the 21st century, Trump said. "These four pillars represent a down-the-middle compromise, and one that will create a safe, modern, and lawful immigration system. For over 30 years, Washington has tried and failed to solve this problem. This Congress can be the one that finally makes it happen."
